

setts such as Mr. McMillin and others to the Stages & Alexanders that compose his own Executive; but can ask for letters to our most distinguished person ages & fancies himself quite good enough to associate with them.

I understand Vincent is about returning to the Uni ted States - He tells the people here that he has to go, as he is needed in the Anti-Slavery Mission to Kansas & Nebraska I dont know what is to be come of the Tract Enterprise Excuse this haste. The family are to leave immediately for Liverpool - three going to sail for New York.

My message must be its own apology - Meanwhile I remain with the truest regard & love to you & yours John Pillsbury.

Some of our friends are talking rather despair-ingly - and I hardly know how to comfort them.

I have written Mr. May a few lines about Chamber over our. He is determined to carry the Estlin, and they seem inclined to look upon him as it seems to me far too charitably and confidently. Miss Estlin gave him letters at his request, to Mrs. Chapman & her sister, and he has just returned full of delight, at the dinner & six hours interview - they enjoyed together at Versailles. He has never proposed introducing any of our

Condemning Pennington's Course. He did this in public and private - Now it seems he has gathered up contributions that were intended for our Bureau, or at least that I heard solemnly promised to that object, and is running away with them - He too has been telling the pious ones here, not exactly that we are infidels, but that there are plenty of Christian operations in the U.S. which they can aid. And so he is really betraying us in the meanest manner. At least he began by censuring in others, the very things he is now doing himself.

Belfast October 5. 1854.

146

Dear Garrison.

I thought my package of letters by Miss Veil was done. A note however has just reached me from Manchester a part of the contents of which you should know.

A person Vincent is now travelling here, a La Pennington & Co., pretending to collect money for a Tract Movement; that is to send Tracts all over the Slave States, converting Masters & delivering Slaves. I met him in Manchester and he joined me in